-Spectator Notes-

Ric Masten, Millie Kimball, and Jimmy Griffin are among the stars of "That's The Ticket" - the purely local musical that wowed the opening night audience last night at the Forest Theater.

That wine tasting party at the Highlands Inn last week brought out most of the amateur and professional tasters in the area. Most were dressed in their finest afternoon wear. However, ane distinguished looking couple arrived in britches and boots. Tom Hudson was puzzled as to whether they had arrived ones horse or a motorcycle.

Ted Kuster was telling The Spectator why the front of the new Playhouse is larger than originally planned. "Between acts we are going to have to have more yak-yak room," he said.

Notice the marquee of the State Theater this week? It said "has anybody seen my gal sound off."

Those fine British automobiles you've seen around town don't indicate an influx of potentates. It's just that Carlton Potter is making the rounds trying to interest local gentry in either a Rolls Royce or a Bentley. Both rather exceptional cars, we've decided.

Mike and Katharine Gould have returned from their tour of a swath of North America that took them to the East Coast. Mike had some trouble with a hotel window in New York and is wearing his arm in a sling while a bad cut heals. He claims he hadn't had a cocktail for days before the accident. His nephew, John Elicott, drove them here and returned yesterday to the East where he is a student at the Harvard Law School.

Reginald and Erma Robinson of Carmel, traveling in Europe on their honeymoon, bumped square into Gladys Johnston on the streets of Copenhagen. They had quite a reunion, we understand.

PARKING LOT PURCHASE WILL NOT INCLUDE OCEAN AVENUE FRONTAGE

A municipal parking lot for Carmel is definitely on the way, and it is now up to the city council to call for a bond election at the meeting Sept. 3-- the election to be scheduled for Oct. 17.

The council, meeting as part of a 15-man study committee, definitely stated that the council would not be in favor of buying the entire M.J.Murphy block bounded by Junipero, Ocean, Mission, and 7th. Members said they felt that the Ocean avenue frontage should be sold first and that the city buy the remainder.

The price set on the block (minus the buildings at the corner of Ocean and Mission) is %117,000. Because the Ocean avenue frontage is too valuable to be used for parking, council members said they felt the bond issue should be for the amount necessary to purchase the parking lot only. Thus the bond issue will be for the sale of the Ocean avenue lots.

The contemplated bond issue will be of the general obligation type. Under this system of financing, the cost of the lot comes out of general funds raised by property taxes. Because the payments are taken out of property taxes, this type of bond carries a low interest rate. Revenue bond, where only the parking lot revenue is pledged, carry a much higher interest rate.

The general obligation bond issue needs a two-thirds majority to pass, whereas only a simple majority is needed to pass revenue bonds.

RECREATION CENTER. PLAN APPROVED BY PLANNERS

A recreation center for Carmel's older citizens has been approved by the Planning Commission. The application to establish such a THE KING center, presented last week by the Carmel Foundation, was opposed by some of the nearby property owners.

The home, on Lincoln between 8th and 9th, will serve as a meeting place where the visitors can read, talk, play cards, or draw and paint.

of the group today. The county supervisors felt that the appointment is desirable due to the increasing number of problems before the commission from this area.

Carmel Martin, commission chairman, of Monterey, and W. T. Moore, Del Monte official, have been the only two Peninsula representatives. It is expected that Elston will represent the Highlands, the Valley, and Carmel Unincorporated, as well as Carmel.

Elston, whose appointment will become official at the end of September, has lived here since 1945. He opened his own architect's office in 1948.

ELEMENTARY REGISTRATION CLOSES FRIDAY IN CARMEL

Registration for new kindergarten students and new first grade students took place at the Woods and Sunset schools yesterday and will continue today. Pupils living north of Ocean avenue should register at the Woods school; those south of Ocean at the Sunset School.

Kindergarten students who were in school last year do not need to register for the first grade.

Kindergarten students must have been born on or before Dec. 2, 1947, and new first grade students on or before Dec. 2, 1946. A birth certificate must be presented at the time of registration to verify the date of birth.

In grades one through five (1-5) new students living north of Ocean will register at the Woods School, and those living south of Ocean will register at Sunset.

New students in grades six and seven will register at Sunset.

LARGE TURNOUT FOR GOP RALLY AT FAIRGROUNDS

An impressive turnout of about 700 people attended the Republican rally at the Fairgrounds Wednesday night. The Monterey Peninsula Republican Women organized the dinner rally, which was cosponsored by the County Central Committee.

In addition to a complete potluck dinner, those present were treated to some good political oratory by Mrs. Mildred Younger of Los Angeles. Besides the county Republican leaders, other notables at the head table included Fred Weybret, James Silliman, and Ernest Bramblett.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Stanton, the combined Republican groups of the Monterey Peninsula provided a free dinner to assure a large attendance of all Republicans as well as voters not registered as Republicans at the rally.

WISHART'S BAKERY OPENS CARMEL BRANCH ON OCEAN

Wishart's Bakery is moving back into Carmel after an absence of six years. George Wishart established a bakery here in 1931 which he operated until 1946 when he sold the business.

Three years later he started the Wishart Bakery in Monterey. Now that his son Bill is working with him in Monterey, he has decided to return to Carmel. He will operate the Carmel branch on Ocean avenue and Bill will be in Monterey.

The Wisharts have lived in Carmel for 21 years.

Our shop is closed until Sept. 8 while we are in The Islands on a buying trip.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF THRICE as Councilman Francis Whitaker, the Village smithy, prepares to hang up once more this familiar wrought iron marker at the soon-to-reopen Carmel Playhouse. He hung it on the first Theater of the Golden Bough in 1924 and after the 1935 fire put it on the second one. It survived the 1949 blaze, too. Helping Whitaker is Mrs. Frank Lloyd (Marge) of Carmel Highlands, an active supporter of the new playhouse. According to Ted Kuster, playhouse manager, the sign is about 400 years old and until it was brought to Carmel by Tilly Polak graced a wienstube in Berne, Switzerland, for 260 years. - - Arthur McEwen photo.

HOGE, PORTER, NIELSON, MARCUCCI TAKE CHEST JOBS

Announcement of the appointment of four well known residents of the Carmel area to important posts in connection with the forthcoming fundraising campaign of the Community Chest is made by Captain Archer M. Allen, USN, Ret., campaign co-ordinator of the Carmel section.

The chairman appointed for the Pebble Beach area is Mrs. J. Hampton Hoge, last year's highly successful assistant chairman, and regularly active in matters of civic betterment. Appointed chairman for the Upper Carmel Valley is Mrs. Paul F. Porter, whose husband presently is director of the Chest, and who formerly was a Chest director herself; and Mrs. Edward P. Marcucci, chairman of Lower Carmel Valley. Appointed chairman for the Carmel business section is Harold Nielsen, Carmel merchant and former member of the Carmel School Board.

Because of the increased population, as well as increasing costs, a larger fund than ever before will be sought to continue and expand the social and welfare activities sponsored by the Chest in the Carmel area,

by PARKER KIMBALL

The County Planning Commission on Monday granted a hearing on the controversial Upper Valley road realignment issue, at the behest of two groups of property owners, and set the dates for Sept. 2 and Oct. 27... Representing a group of property owners living immediately along the Valley highway, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whelan spoke for the hearing which was then put into a motion by commissioner Carmel Martin and quickly passed, despite one member's groan, "Oh, not that again!"...A letter from the Carmel Valley Property Owners Assn. rejecting Plan A (the proposed almost-all-new route) for Plan B (following more closely the present highway) was read to the commission together with a letter from the Upper Valley advisory planning committee, agreeing to a hearing on the two routes...

At a meeting Monday night at the home of Fred Whelan, 23 property owners along the Valley Road voted to ask the planning commission and supervisors to abandon Plan A on the grounds that it would cause unjust hardship on a considerable few, as well as create a hazardous situation by bordering the Tularci tos School property..also that the commissian, as soon as the decision is reached, 'immediately survey the Plan B route so that property owners may know their property line setbacks for the purposes of building and subdividing...The "Valley Roadsiders League," to give this group a name, also presented a plan it considers equitable and which will form the basis of a petition, to wit: that alternate plan B be adopted, keeping the road to an average of approximately 60 ft., with a 20 ft. setback which would remain the property of owners along the highway; and that in final location of the approved road, right of way be so determined that there shall be no undue cutting into properties with resultant loss of value or damage; and that every effort be made to preserve the beauty of the Upper Valley ...

Tadpoles and larger fish go back to school on Sept. 10, with Tularcitos kindergarten and gradeschool in session again..new faces in the student ranks will greet one new face in the teacher ranks--Patricia Gerlitz, the new kindergarten teacher, formerly associated with the Playtime Nursery ... Mrs. Cecil Mac Gowan, last year's substitute teacher, will be employed full time this year... Until the addition to the new school is completed within the next few months, grades 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8 will be housed at the new school to save inconvenience of moving desks, equipment, etc...Plans are being made: to hold fourth grade classes at the firehouse. Kindergarten and second grade will use the old school again...

Kindergarten Registration: Children who have not already registered for Tul. kindergarten may do so Sat., Aug. 2, at the school, between 9 a.m. and noon. T seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about —plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course — happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills — as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you — because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflow Drive* — the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the topof the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick-there's just one thing to do:

Come in-pick the one of your choice-and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Born in Los Angeles, the son of Edward Weston, the famed photographer, Cole went school in both L.A. and here, at Sunset, before entering the Cornish School of Dramatics in Seattle. on all of the activities of the large Navy base there. It was while he was serving with the Navy that Cole practiced and perfected portraiture, a field that had always interested him, and one in which he rapidly became professional.

Parting from the Navy in 1945, Cole went to New York, and there formed an association with "Life" magazine which brought him back to the coast, as a Los Angeles based photographer for them. A picture taking assignment in Carmel reaffirmed Cole's love for this part of the country, and he decided, in 1946, to stay here, helping his father in photographic work.

The trout farm, which now occupies most of Cole's time. began as a land buying venture which he undertook with his brother, Brett. Originally bought as a home, the land proved ideally adapted to trout planting, and is now both home and business.

with Carmel are many and date from the early days of the Golden Bough when he appeared there as a child. What will your Dollars be worth in 1957?

The dollars you have today were worth more in 1946. How much will they be worth five years from now? A great deal depends on you. If you believe that prices will continue upward, the dollars you have today should be employed so that they have a chance to earn more dollars.

HUGHES' GRANDCHILDREN HAVE DUAL CHRISTENING

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Aber nethy travelled to Salinas last Sunday to attend the christening of Clark and Ann Allsop, the Hughes' grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Allsop, of Salinas, are the parents of the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Abemethy acted as godparents for Ann Hughes Allsop, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Ward were godparents to Clark Hughes Allsop.

The Reverend Mr. Richard Coombs officiated at the service, and a buffet dinner reception followed the services at the Allsops' Acacia Road home.

CAMPBELL . HURD ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Col. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell of Carmel have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margot, to Lt. Raymond" Hurd. Lt. Hurd is currently stationed at Quantico, Virginia, with the Marine Corps. and the marriage will be postponed until after his tour of service.

Margot is a Carmel High School graduate, currently in her senior year at the University of California. She will sail for England on October 3rd, to act as College Girls' Stylist for Best From Britain, the Carmel shop, in its London office.

Lt. Hurd is the son of the Arthur Hurds of Runsmuir.

PEBBLE BEACH NOTES

Mrs. John Magee and Mrs. Gerald Rathbone of Burlingame journeyed to the Monterey Peninsula last Friday to spend a fortnight at the home of Mrs. H. W. Toulmin, who is currently traveling in Europe.

In the visitors' honor a number of small parties were planned, including a luncheon Col. and Mrs. Paul S. Winslow hosted at the Cypress Point Club Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton honored the pair with a tea on Sunday afternoon at their Carmel Valley home.

Mrs. Charles Fuller of Pebble Beach sailed from San Francisco last week on the S.S. Eastern Prince for a trip which will take her to Manila, Japan, and Hong Kong. At Port Said she will disembark and travel to England, France, and other European countries before returning home.

GARDENING FOR HEALTH AND HAPPINESS By CHARLES W. DELANEY

The bulb catalogues are being mailed to gardeners and so it is advisable to make out your orders for spring blossoms. The bulbs are shipped at the proper time for planting. Bulbs may be planted as late as December. The time reguired for most bulbs to bloom is about ten weeks.

Of all the flowers grown from bulbs, none are easier to grow than hyacinths, tulips, and daffodils. These bulbs require no particular care after planting. Their gaily colored blossoms appear when the garden has the least bloom. The best effects are obtained by planting them in groups and between perennials, never in straight lines. By grouping, the color effect is much more pleasing. It is better to select one or two beds where the flowers can be best seen and enjoyed. A sunny location is most desirable, in front of shrubs or among low growing established plants. Tulips and daffodils should be planted back from the front border whereas hyacinths, which do not grow tall, may be planted in the foreground with pansies, allyssum, forget-me-nots, Virginia stock, and English daisies. These will hide the leaves when the bulbs have finished blooming.

The flowers may be cut, but never cut the foliage. The commercial growers remove the flowers as soon as they are matured. This forces the growth of the bulb and creates larger flowers for the next year. All bulbs develop from the foliage and, if it is cut off before the leaves turn brown, the bulb dies. The ripening of the foliage builds a new bulb for the following year.

PESTS TO FIGHT

It is advisable to dust the bulbs with lindane (Botano De lux) before planting; also apply lindane to the soil. This prevents thrips and other pests from invading. The gophers are the worst enemies of all bulbs, especially of tulips and hyacinths. If you have gophers, they can be outwitted easily. The bulbs may be planted in discarded nursery cans or any gallon can. Cut holes in the sides and bottoms of the cans for drainage. Plant one or two bulbs to a can, using light garden loam and table spoonful of bone meal. Then bury the can, leaving about one inch. of the rim above the surface of the soil. Another scheme is to dig fairly large holes and line the sides and bottom with rabbit wire, then bill the basket, and plant the bulbs at least eight inches deep.

POT CULTURE

Hyacinths, tulips, and jonis are easily grown in pots. One to three bulbs may be planted, depending upon the size of the bulbs.

For the potting soil, mix equal parts of garden loam, river sand and peat moss. To this add a heaping tablespoonful of bone meal. Fill the pot to within one inch of the rim. Push the flat end of the bulb into the potting mixture, allowing the tip of the bulb to project above the soil level. Select a cool, shady place in the garden and bury the pots so that the rim of the pot is at least six inches below the ground level. The soil should be firmed about the pot and it should then be kept moist so that the roots will form.

In 10 to 14 weeks the plant will be five to six inches high. The leaves will look yellow and bleached like a celery stalk.

Take the pots out of the ground and place them in a semi-shaded place, not in direct sun, until the leaves become a normal green. The blossom bud will be seen in the center of the plant. They may then be brought indoors or placed where they can be en joyed.

Planting time for the above bulbs may extend into December. We have planted them as late as February, but the fall months are the best, as the bulbs are fresher and healthier. They thrive best when the ground is cold and moist and, if rains are not abundant, they should be watered once each

Keep the camellias, rhododendrons, and azaleas well watered at this time. If they become bone dry, the new buds will fall off and there will be no blossoms in the spring.

The ground, unless it has been thoroughly irrigated, dries out very rapidly on bright sunny days, so be sure to keep it moist by morning or evening watering.
